Are you interested in conducting research abroad? Located in Amman, Jordan, the American Center of Oriental Research (ACOR) is accepting applications for 2019–2020 fellowships, including a National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) post-doctoral award and both pre- and post-doctoral Council of American Overseas Research Centers (CAORC) awards. Funding for undergraduates and early career graduate students is also available.

See details at https://www.acorjordan.org/2019-20-acor-fellowships/

ACOR-CAORC Pre-Doctoral Fellowships

At least two fellowships available for M.A. and pre-doctoral students to conduct research in Jordan. Applicants are required to be a U.S. citizen and enrolled as a graduate student at the time of application. The fellowships will be offered for terms of two to six months.

ACOR-CAORC Post-Doctoral Fellowships

At least two fellowships available for research in Jordan. Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or the equivalent terminal degree in their field at the time of application and be a U.S. citizen. The fellowships will be offered for terms of two to six months.

ACOR-NEH Post-Doctoral Research Fellowship

This six-month fellowship supports research in the humanities and disciplines of the social sciences that have humanistic content and employ humanistic methods. Research topics should contribute to scholarship in Near Eastern studies. Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or equivalent professional training at the time of application.

Deadline to apply to above fellowships is February 1, 2019.

Visit us at www.acorjordan.org to learn more and find out how to apply.